all the evidence for daily sabbath and festival prayers in the qumran scrolls is analysed in detail document by document on the basis of formal features and social liturgical setting these prayers are compared with each other to uncover divergent prayer traditions comparative material beyond the scrolls is used to reassess their place in the development of jewish prayer evidence for prayers of different origin found at qumran is important for reconsidering the nature of the scrolls the community s which used them and the history of jewish liturgy for several texts significant new reconstructions are offered this catechism is divided into three parts the first part treats of faith the second of morals the third of the means of grace in the first part our lord appears in his character of teacher in the second in his character of king and in the third in his character of high priest and since this catechism proposes as its primary object to answer the question for what purpose are we here upon earth thereby emphasizing and giving prominence to man s high calling and destiny it is especially suited to the present day when the pursuit of material interests self indulgence and pleasure engrosses the attention of so many this catechism is in fact nothing more nor less than an abstract of our lord s teaching and may be called a guide book for the christian on the road to heaven preface
